Vent-A-Hood Wins Advertising Award from Kitchen & Bath Design News

Richardson, Texas – Vent-A-Hood, the company that created the modern residential range hood, recently received the Ad Q Award for Outstanding Advertising from Kitchen & Bath Design News (KBDN) magazine.

The award was presented in recognition of advertising that achieved outstanding readership response, as measured against other ads appearing in KBDN.

Vent-A-Hood used full-page ads as part of a national brand-building campaign that showcased the company's superior manufacturing, patented Magic Lung® ventilation and high-end design details.

"The ads were designed to highlight form and function, showcasing the power of our range hoods with the sleek design of our canopies," said Blake Woodall director of sales for Vent-A-Hood. "Those are the details that speak to a superior kitchen designer."

Woodall added that Vent-A-Hood was proud to be honored by KBDN.

"It reinforces our goal to be the leading brand in our category of luxury range hoods," he said.
